WILLIAMSVILLE.

Safe Blowers in Williams's Grist Mill.

Sunday morning brought the startling news that J. W. Williams's grist mill had been entered, the safe blown open and money taken and several bags of grain spoiled by the explosion. The burglar picked the lock with tools taken from Luke Morse's shop. They secured less than $20. The money was in a box, which was contained in a chest, which was in a lot near A. M. Merrifield's. It is thought that the men were in the village last Saturday afternoon. The lanterns were seen, who came from toward Dummerston. They undoubtedly intended to burglarize O. L. Sherman's store, as marks showed that the windows had been tried in an effort to open them. The strangers who were here in the afternoon were seen looking in the windows at the store.

The grist mill was burglarized last March. The windows were then forced open and the safe overturned, but not opened. Then the windows in each of the three stores showed the same work, but only a small amount of money was taken from each store. Several people heard the explosion, which was heard in the mill, but the sound was muffled with bags of rye and oats, which were blown to pieces and left loose on the floor. Frank Washier, who lives near the mill, said that he saw the explosion on Sunday morning and went in supposing Mr. Williams was there. None of Mr. Williams's family heard the noise in the night.

The explosion occurred about 1 o'clock.

NEWFARE.

Fram-Batchelder.

The following from the Montevideo, Minn., Leader of the 9th has local interest from the fact that the groom's home was here at graduation at Brown university, he being the only son of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Batchelder, who removed to Fitchburg. The bride is well known here as the daughter of Mrs. Achsa Root Fram who was a Newfare girl and whose parents spent most of their lives here. Our community joins in the congratulations of wedding friends.

Married, at the Congregational church in Montevideo, Minn., Tuesday evening, September 6th, 1904, Miss Florence Batchelder, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paris Fram, and Gilbert Newton Batchelder, Rev. W. J. Brown officiating. This was one of the prettiest and most interesting society events in the history of our town. The church had been very handsomely decorated with homegrown flowers and greenery by the holy friends of the bride, and was brilliantly lighted. A large floral bell, also prettily lighted, hung from the ceiling. The piano and pipe organ were played by Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder. Mrs. Jesse Fram presided at the piano and played several beautiful numbers while the two hundred invited guests were being entertained. The bride and groom entered the church from Lohengrin as the wedding party entered the church, and Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. The bride and groom entered together, attended only by Master Ralph Johnson as flower boy. As they stood before the altar, the bride wore the most beautiful and richly trimmed with hand-made lace, and the groom wore a suit of gray cloth and a top hat. The groom was dressed in conventional black.

Following the ceremony nearly all of the bride's friends were present, and say good bye. A wedding supper was served and each guest was presented with a pretty souvenir box of wedding cake. Mrs. Batchelder wore the richest of many beautiful presents. Later in the evening they drove to Granite Falls to get the train for Sioux City and Omaha and will stop for a short while at Colorado Springs and expect to sail from San Francisco for their new home at Kohala, Hawaii Islands, Sept. 17.

The bride is one of Montevideo's fairest and most accomplished young ladies. She is a graduate of our high school and also of Welles college. Broad will speak on "Immigration, or What I Saw at Ellis Island," and Mrs. Cawell on "The White Man's Burden." Mrs. Broad began conducting these interesting home missionary rallies here in 1885, the first year of Rev. Mr. Broad's pastorate.
